

FORD FOUNDATION INTERNATIONAL FELLOWSHIPS PROGRAM IN TANZANIA

The Ford Foundation International Fellowships Program (IFP) seeks to build a new generation of social justice leaders worldwide. Ford Foundation International Fellows come from groups and communities that have traditionally lacked access to higher education, and are selected on the strength of their academic achievement, leadership skills and social justice commitment.

The Economic and Social Research Foundation is the IFP International Partner which oversees the IFP Tanzania Alumni Association (TIFPA) networking and collaborative activities at country level, and also at East Africa, Region and Global Levels. Above, the ESRF Executive Director opening one of the TIFPA meetings in Dar es Salaam.

IFP Tanzania is hosted and supervised by the Economic and Social Research Foundation (ESRF). ESRF as one of the International Partners (IP) of the program, is an independent policy research institution based in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania. It was established in response to the need for development of institutional capacity for policy analysis

Given the perseverance and courage that each of these individuals have already shown, their goals and objectives now seem well within their reach. Together as a group, they are better informed and better linked so that they continue to inspire each other locally, regionally and globally. "They think globally and act locally"
